Student Alumni Ambassadors

The Student Alumni Ambassador program builds relationships among students and alumni to create a culture of philanthropy at Cumberland University.

Student Alumni Ambassadors connect past, present, and future alumni in a variety of ways. Some of the roles and responsibilities include:

- Assist with on-campus and local alumni and donor events for the academic year.
- Welcome alumni and donors to campus and provide the student experience during meetings, events, visits, and private campus tours.
- Spread awareness to other undergraduate students about the alumni community and the programs and services offered by the Office of Advancement and Alumni.
- Help direct the future of student-alumni programs by providing feedback and insights into current student interests, needs, and priorities.
- Build and strengthen connections between students and alumni.
